

Rowan Ice Hockey embraces the athletic and educational experience that is an integral component of the academic mission of the University. The college attracts a diverse group of athletes who contribute academically, athletically, and socially to the life of the campus.

The Rowan team is an American Collegiate Hockey Association (ACHA) D-II member and is part of Mid-Atlantic Collegiate Hockey conference. Rowan competes against other Mid-Atlantic and Southeast Division schools such as Penn State, Virginia Tech, Liberty, UMBC, Maryland, and Delaware among others. The Mid-Atlantic conference is regarded as one of the nation's top most respected and competitive leagues and continually has teams going to the regional's. For the last five seasons, the Mid-Atlantic had nine out of the top fifteen ranked regionally including Rowan who have been nationally ranked since 2007 and has been ranked in the top 10 five years in a row. The Profs have been ranked as high as #2 during the 2013 season and finished #5 last year. The Mid-Atlantic sends teams to nationals every year.

Rowan competes for the Mid-Atlantic playoffs every year and had another successful year during the 2014/2015 season finishing 2nd in the league after losing in the finals to Delaware.

Rowan University is a selective, medium-sized public research university located in southern New Jersey. With high-tech facilities, engaged professors, and nationally ranked academic and athletic programs, Rowan offers an outstanding education at an exceptional value. It is a leading public institution that combines education from the baccalaureate through doctorate. It offers 85 undergraduate majors among seven colleges and is listed in the "Top Tier" of Northern Regional Universities by US News & World Report and Princeton Review ranked Rowan one of the "Best Northern Colleges." Rowan has a new Cooper Medical School of Rowan University and is only the second school in the state to offer a medical program.

The University is in the midst of a $530 million plan to expand the campus that has already seen a new science center, engineering campus, and a new educational building and now is also designated as a research institution. The University is in the midst of completing the quintessential college town project called Rowan Boulevard which houses new apartment complexes, retail establishments, Courtyard by Marriott hotel, Barnes and Noble store, and large green area for students. The university enrolls about 11,000 full- and part-time students in both under and post grad studies.

Hockey
2015-2016

The Rowan University Men's Ice Hockey program has enjoyed many successful seasons since its inception in the 1970's. Over the past ten years the program has evolved into one of the top elite programs in the region under the guidance of Head Coach John Caulfield and Associate Head Coach Mike Husek. The team won the league championship in 2008 and has continuously been nationally ranked in the Southeast Region. The program has offered numerous students the opportunity to continue playing competitive hockey while also pursuing their degree at one of the most academically renowned schools in the region.

The ice hockey program at Rowan is very competitive and is operated like an NCAA varsity program. The team is professionally managed and the athletes conduct themselves with dignity. The team plays up to 35 games during the season and travels to all away games on a Rowan University charter bus. The team also participates in a variety of tournaments during the season such as the ACHA Showcase. The team carries a roster of 26 players, with players coming from many backgrounds, including midgets, high school, Junior-level teams, and other colleges. The program has attracted players with experience playing in Canada and Europe.

The team plays all home games at Hollydell Ice Arena in Sewell, NJ, approximately five minutes from campus. Practices are held twice a week during afternoon hours, for an hour plus each. The team has its own locker room facilities at the Arena, featuring individual player stalls, coaches' office, showers, skate sharpener, and more. All players receive team jerseys, gloves, a matching helmet, hockey bag, team jacket, and other equipment as part of their team apparel.

The program enjoys a wide variety of media exposure, including campus telecasts, University newspaper articles and interviews, local media coverage, and all games can be heard on IYM Sports Radio.

For current students hoping to join the team, the coaching staff typically extends an invitation to join the team for a practice, thus allowing the prospective player to experience hockey at the college level. This invitation is reserved to applicants who are applying to Rowan University and have been in contact with the caching staff.

The most important factor in deciding where to play is selecting a school that fits both your academic and athletic needs and wants. The Rowan University Ice Hockey staff encourages players to examine and evaluate the University's academic programs and resources before making their final decision.

John Caulfield. Coach Caulfield is entering his tenth year as the head coach of the Rowan University Men's Varsity Ice Hockey program. His positive attitude, spirit, and knowledge of the game all benefit Rowan.

During his tenure the program has secured multiple playoff berths, including two conference final appearances and a division title in 2008. The Profs have been nationally ranked in the top 15 nine years in a row, top 10 in the last five when they made the regional playoffs. Rowan was also the first team to host an outdoor game in ACHA history. Coach Caulfield's popularity and success behind the bench earned him honors of being named Southeast Coach of the Year in 2011 and has three All-Star coaching nominations.

Mike Husek. Coach Husek joined Rowan University Ice Hockey in 2006 and serves as both Associate Head Coach and Recruiting Director. Coach Husek is responsible for the majority of the program's recruiting activities and player development. Coach Husek has also served as the defensive coach for last nine seasons and continues to concentrate on making the Profs a defensively sound team. Coach Husek also joined Coach Caulfield behind the bench for the 2007 and 2008 All-Star games. His European and Canadian background brings vast supply of hockey knowledge and significant scouting abilities to the team.

Alan Weiner. Coach Weiner is in his seventh year with the Profs as an Assistant Coach. He is a hit with all the players as his great personality and ability to communicate is a great asset. Coach Weiner is responsible specializing in the offensive side and helping special teams and off-ice activities. His eye for talent is a great asset to the program.

Lorri Brewer. Lorri is in her eleventh year as General Manager and is also Rowan's Admissions counselor. Besides serving as the GM, Lorri also serves at the team mom, academic counselor, compliance officer and liaison between Rowan's Sports Director and Hollydell Ice Arena. She is also responsible for building the team's schedule as well as maintaining a balanced budget.
